

TRIAL WILL BE HELD AT MORRISON

JUDGE GRAVES OVERRULES MOTION OF BYERS GIRLS FOR CHANGE OF VENUE.

DENIES HE IS PREJUDICED

Says He is Convinced Women Can Get Fair Hearing in Home County.

CHRONOLOGY OF CASE.

July 9—Emmanuel Byers shot in hayfield north of Sterling, his sisters Mrs. Emma Hutton and Miss Lillian Byers being accused of each firing two shots into his body.

July 10—Two women held to the grand jury without bail by Coroner's jury.

Oct. 6—Women indicted by the Whiteside county grand jury. Bail refused by Judge Frank D. Ramsay.

Oct. 9—On prayer of defense Judge A. T. Petit of Chicago issued writ of habeas corpus directing that women be brought to Chicago to determine why they should not be released on bail.

Oct. 14—Judge Petit admits defendants to bail of $100,000 each, which was furnished.

Oct. 24—Judge Emery C. Graves overruled motion of defense from a change of venue.

(Special to the Telegraph.)

Morrison, Ill., Oct. 24.—Judge Emery C. Graves in the Whiteside county Circuit court this morning overruled the motion of the attorneys for Mrs. Emma Hutton and Miss Lillian Byers for a change of venue in their trial for the alleged murder of their brother Emmanuel Byers.

Must Go to Trial.

The action of the judge makes it absolutely necessary for the defense to go to trial in Whiteside county; and as Nov. 4 is the day for which the trial was set it is probable the case will go into court at that time.

Is Unprejudiced.

In overruling the motion Judge Graves stated that personally he was not prejudiced in any particular against the two defendants and that he did not even know by sight the two men who made affidavit that they believed him to be biased. He also expressed his belief that the people of the county are not inflamed against the women, and accordingly he held that the case must be tried in Whiteside county.

Can Claim Errors.

The defense has no present appeal from the ruling of Judge Graves and will have to go to trial in Whiteside county, according to attorneys; but should it be desired to carry the case to a higher court after the verdict of the jury is rendered the defense will probably present the ruling as an error of the court.

Applications Similar.

The applications of both Miss Byers and Mrs. Hutton, as filed at Morrison are similar, differing only in the names, while the same affidavits and exhibits were used in both cases. The applications set forth the fact that the defendants were committed to the Whiteside county jail on or about July 10, 1914, on a coronor's warrant based upon the findings of the coroner's jury.

DR. RALPH C. BROWN HELPS IN REMARKABLE OPERATION

SON OF MR. AND MRS. O. H. BROWN ASSISTED DR. R. W. SIPPY IN SAVING FROM STARVATION LITTLE GIRL WHO HAD DRUNK QUANTITY OF LYE WHILE A BABY.

The Chicago Tribune of this morning has the following article telling of some exceptional surgical work in which Dr. R. C. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brown of this city, successfully participated:

The town of Pine Bluff, Ark., adopted a little girl about a year ago, saved her life through a remarkable surgical operation and now is about to lose her. The girl is leaving a home of comparative poverty and is coming to Chicago—maybe today—maybe tomorrow—as the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa R. Bacon. Mr. Bacon is superintendent of the Presbyterian hospital, which has been the child's home for six months.

The girl is Grace Hiff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hiff of Pine Bluff. She is now almost five years old.

Drank Concentrated Lye.

When she was just 3 she dragged a can of concentrated lye from her mother's panty shelf, and believing it to be sugar, swallowed a handful before her mother could stop her. She was rushed to a hospital and her life was despaired of. It was found that the powerful alkaloid had burned and strictured her esophagus until it had closed. Luckily her throat was uninjured and she still retained her power of speech.

Grace could neither eat nor drink. She was slowly starving to death. Then in a last extremity a doctor inserted a silver tube in her stomach and for months the girl was kept alive by giving her nourishment through the tube. But it was seen that unless something was done very quickly she would die. Her only hope was to have her esophagus restored. Her parents were too poor to employ specialists and Pine Bluff adopted Grace.

Raise $500 for Treatment.

Charitable organizations with the aid of the newspapers raised $500 and Dr. Bertram W. Sippy of Chicago agreed to see what he could do.

Accordingly last spring little Grace was brought to the Presbyterian hospital. Dr. Sippy found it the tightest stricture of the esophagus that

WALTER J. WINGERT STRICKEN SUDDENLY

PIONEER LEE COUNTY CITIZEN PASSED AWAY AT 10 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

DUE TO CEREBRAL HEMORRHAGE

Had Experienced Fainting Spell Friday But Was In Good Spirits This Morning.

Walter J. Wingert died suddenly this morning at 10 o'clock from a cerebral hemorrhage at his home at 707 West Third street, in this city. He had a fainting spell yesterday while driving in the woods near Hazelwood with his wife, but rested easily last night and was apparently well this morning when, without warning the fatal stroke came.

He was the son of Henry and Anna Wingert and was born at Winchester, Ohio, July 24, 1838. In 1852 he came with his parents to Lee county, settling on a farm three miles west of Franklin Grove on what is now the Lincoln Highway. September 27, 1864, he was married to Mary Catherine Emmert, at Dixon, who survives him. They celebrated their golden wedding less than three weeks ago. In 1866 he removed to Franklin Grove and there engaged in the mercantile business and later on in November, 1876, came to Dixon, where he continued to reside until his death.

He was for many years very extensively engaged in the grain and live stock business here, and was a man of very great energy, loving an outdoor life and having a host of friends. On two different occasions he was assessor for a number of years for the town of Dixon. He

MESSAGE FROM A VETERAN REPUBLICAN AND SOLDIER

MAJOR O. J. DOWNING OF NORTH DIXON MAKES AN ELOQUENT APPEAL FOR A PARTY UNITED AGAINST THE DEMOCRATS AND FOR THE FURTHERANCE OF REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES.

Dear Editor:

Having cast my first vote as a republican and having continued to vote with the party ever since for 58 years, I submit a few suggestions for your consideration:

To the Voters:

On the third of November next, the citizens of Illinois are called upon to exercise the inestimable privilege of voting for the candidates that have been selected by the primaries for the several places of our local and state officials. Also, representatives in Congress.

The selection this year is a very important one. Do not feel that you are incapable of deciding for yourself how to act and for whom to vote. Existing conditions and great questions that confront you are plain and simple, within the comprehension and understanding of the most humble citizen. Everyone without prejudice or personal considerations should cast his or her vote for principles embraced in governmental policies. With an eye to maintain certain conditions now existing, that are good and for such reforms as may seem reasonable and consistent with such legislation in the past, that has proved beneficial in the administration of the affairs of government. The political history of our country for the last 54 years—going back to 1860—two great political parties only have existed, each one fully organized and equipped with distinctive policies. During that period the republican party has been at the head of our national affairs and administered our government 44 years, while the democratic party has had two single terms, being about eight years, and now under present administration, about two years.

The republican party had its birth in 1856, when the slave power was dominating the government and threatening its destruction by disunion. The situation and condition was such that fear and discontent prevailed everywhere. Agitation and public meetings were doing their work, in consequence a wave of patriotism swept over the entire north, which

THINK CRUISER WAS VICTIM OF DISTROYER

JAPANESE GOVERNMENT HAS A NEW THEORY REGARDING FATE OF TAKACHILHO.

(Associated Press.)

Tokio, Oct. 24.—The government now believes that the Japanese cruiser Takachilho which was reported sunk by a mine Oct. 17, in the harbor at Kiao Chow was really sunk by the German destroyer S-90, which was pursued by a Jap cruiser and was blown up by her captain.

The captain and sixty of the crew of the S-90 escaped and later were interned near Shanghai by the Chinese soldiers. A large number of the crew of the S-90 who were blown into the sea died singing their national anthem.

DIXON WILL ASSIST IN LOADING CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR THE FATHERLESS CHILDREN OF EUROPE

Dixon is to assist in loading the famous Christmas Ship. As everybody knows, the President has authorized the use of an American battleship to take the Christmas presents of the children of the United States to the children of the warring nations in Europe.

The Dixon Methodist Sunday school arranged last night at a meeting of its officers and teachers to receive any gifts which members of the school or any other citizens of Dixon may desire to give during the two Sundays, October 25 and November 1, and the week intervening and to pack them for the ship.

Second hand articles unless practically new are not wanted.

Things suitable are mittens, mufflers, sweaters, clothing for children, particularly baby clothes, toys, picture books, colored crayons, handkerchiefs, household linen, aprons, dress goods, sewing material, knitting yarn candy (sealed in boxes).

The Sunday school will accept gifts from all who care to contribute and see that they are securely packed. The ship will be one of the finest Christian deeds the world has seen. Let all the children have a part in it.

NO ALUM IN ROYAL BAKING POWDER

FIGURES INDICATE SHERMAN'S ELECTION FOR ILLINOIS SENATOR

I estimate the total vote will be approximately that of 1910, namely 945,711, owing to the fact that no president is to be elected. This does not mean the approaching election is unimportant. It is of immense importance to the people of this country. In Illinois we will vote for a United States senator, twenty-seven congressmen, 175 legislators and many state, county and sanitary district officers. Every citizen ought to be sufficiently interested to vote.

Careful Computation.

"The 1910 vote—945,711—is 81 per cent of the 1912 vote. Making this the basis, our estimate of the result of the election for United States senator, which is the head of the ticket is:

Lawrence Y. Sherman, Rep. 409,659
Roger C. Sullivan, Dem. 288,415
Raymond Robins, Prog. 193,209
Others 54,298

"While we feel the third party practically will be wiped out this fall still in order to make our figures conservative, we have computed them 50 per cent of their 1912 vote for governor.

How It Is Done.

"Our figures may be easily verified. Sherman is given 81 per cent of the Deneen Republican vote in 1912—257,959. Counting only 50 per cent of the Progressives as back in the party and voting for Senator Sherman adds 151,700. This makes no allowance for Democrats who will vote for Senator Sherman. Thousands do not intend to support Mr. Sullivan and many will cast their ballots for Senator Sherman because they know he is the man to defeat the biscuit magnate.

"We give Mr. Sullivan 81 per cent of the Dunne vote—358,927. In 1900, Mr. Bryan received 176,455 more votes for president in Illinois than Parker in 1904. The 176,455 may therefore be classed as dyed in the wool Bryan Democrats who will not forget that Sullivan bolted Bryan in 1896 and 1900, and probably voted for some one else in 1908. It is estimated that 40 per cent of them at least—70,582—will desert Mr. Sullivan. He will get few, if any Republican or Progressive votes. If the remaining 60 per cent of Bryan Democrats vote for him which is hardly probable, Mr. Sullivan will have 288,582 votes.

Liberal Estimate.

"Starting on the Progressive estimate, Mr. Robins was given 81 per cent of the Funk vote for governor in 1912, which would be 245,454. Of this vote it is assumed 50 per cent—122,427—will come back to the Republican party. Add to the 50 per cent left the entire 40 per cent of untainted Bryan followers, single taxes and believers in the public ownership of utilities—70,582—and Mr. Robins will have 193,209. That undoubtedly is a most liberal estimate of the total vote the Progressive candidate will receive. Our reports indicate that Mr. Robins will not receive 125,000 votes in the whole state.

"This leaves unaccounted for 54,298 votes which are given to the Socialist and other candidates.

Gives Sherman 121,214.

"This estimate gives Senator Sherman a plurality of 121,214. Taking into consideration the fact that hundreds of thousands of men—skilled and otherwise—are out of employment in this state, these figures will not be found far wrong.

"Factories are closed, working on half or quarter time, money is hard to get and conditions generally are discouraging to the man who works for his living and also to his employer. Exorbitant taxes in the state because of Democratic extravagance and incompetence, the closing down of business because of national legislation and the war tax which is generally regarded as unnecessary or at best a mask for a Democratic deficit, have tended to make the voter think. The result—Republican year—and the election of the entire Republican ticket.

THIRTY-FIFTH BIRTH-DAY OF ELECTRIC BULBS

Thirty-five years ago this month Thomas A. Edison produced the first incandescent electric lamp in his laboratory at Menlo Park, N. J.

In 1880 an employee of the Edison factory carried all the incandescent electric lamps in the world from Menlo Park to New York City in a market basket on his arm. A year later it was considered a wonderful feat when a small factory turned out a thousand lamps a day. Today the great Edison lamp factory at Harris turns out 35,000 lamps an hour and has made more than 500,000,000.

INTERESTING SIDE LIGHTS ON WAR

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

Berlin, Sept. 20.—Under the heading "Old Sins," the commercial supplement of the Berliner Tageblatt, published the following:

"In a recent issue we published a note, according to which a German manufacturer maintained his offers of 'Sheffield Steel,' notwithstanding the war between German and England, disclosed the fact that for years he had sold in Germany under the name of 'Sheffield Steel' a steel made in Germany. It now comes to light that in a similar way many other 'Genuine English' goods are sold on the German markets. The smart English business man has long ago discovered the weak point of the Germans, and right away took advantage of giving everything foreign a preference. This applied especially to the sale of gloves. Big English houses received their 'English gloves' made in Saxony by German hands, after German methods and from German material. These gloves were shipped, whole carloads full to England, and after being stamped with English trademarks and with English labels attached, were reshipped to Germany, where they were sold as 'genuine English' merchandise, with an additional commission for the English manufacturer of course.

"These manipulations swelled to great proportions in the cloth business. English firms would buy big quantities of German cloth at the textile centers in Silesia, import the cloth to England, and then re-export to Germany. These goods, having thoroughly become English, as proved by the shipping documents and the higher prices—found then a ready market in foreign loving Germany, under this disguise.

"The Frenchmen also learned to make use of this German peculiarity especially in millinery fashions, and so on, where the Parisian taste was given preference by the German public. French manufacturers, for instance, frequently bought at Sebnitz, Saxony, artificial flowers and leaves, selling them afterwards to Berlin houses as 'Parisian Novelties.'"

London, Sept. 22.—Members of the German military air service are being paid a high tribute by a French officer whose letter dealing with them appeared in the Gazette de Lausanne. A translation reads:

"Our enemies also have profited by the war by taking its lesson to heart. They maintained the best sort of field intelligence service and their general information department seems to be getting the news from all parts of the world. We did not think that the German flyers were so numerous. Whole swarms of them would take and survey our positions, and when one of them is shot down five other put in appearance.

"The flyers on the reconnaissance work throw red spheres to the ground. At first our soldiers thought these were bombs and promptly threw themselves on the ground. But they waited in vain for the explosion. Instead large clouds of smoke rose from the ball and a few minutes afterward came a hail of shrapnel.

"The German artillery though inferior to ours, hits the mark. The plan to have the aviators locate our positions by means of the smoke-ball is a great idea. We are now familiar with the little trick, but while it worked it was valuable.

London, Sept. 25.—At the headquarters of the London recruiting office the authorities have compiled a chart which throws an interesting light on the psychology of recruiting. It covers a period between August 11 and September 7, when 51,094 men enlisted in London. It shows how recruiting remained at a daily average of 1200 while the news from the front was not disquieting; how it rose when the news was not so satisfactory, and how it went up with a rush when heavy casualties were announced.

On Monday, August 24, the news was 'German advanced all along the line.' There were 1481 recruits. On Tuesday there was a further advance and the recruits went up to 1547. On Wednesday it was announced that there were 2,000 casualties at Mons, the figure rose to 1551. On Thursday with report of the further retirement of the British troops, 2,000 recruits were added to the roll.

By Saturday the 29th, when the news was 'British fight against tremendous odds' the total was raised to 2003 for the day, and even Sunday, usually a slack day, 1259 men enlisted. But the following Monday, August 31, when headlines read 'Casualties 5,000,' and photographs of the first British wounded were printed, recruits responded with a challenging rush and 4091 men enlisted. On Tuesday there was only a slight drop to 3479. On Wednesday the first list of casualties roused another challenge and a fresh record of 4135 was made. On the morning of Monday, September 1, there appeared the news of 15,000 British casualties, and the sinking of the Pathfinder. London replied by making still another record of nearly 5,000 men.

Now that the war office had had a chance to deal with the first 500,000 recruits for the new army it has anticipated that before long the standard will be put back to the old level. At the London recruiting headquarters the names and addresses are being taken of thousands of men just under 5 feet, 6 inches, and they are being told to settle down for a few weeks and wait until they receive a telegram.

An official said it was not that the army did not want the 5 feet 3 inch men, but recruiting had to be damped down somehow to give the war office a chance to deal with dit, to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of murder; at the October, 1914, term of the Circuit court of Whiteside county, the two defendants, jointly, were indicted by the grand jury, charged with the murder of one Emmanuel Byers, on the ninth day of July, 1914, and that the trial of the said Emma Hut-ton and Lillian Byers was set for the fourth day of November, 1914.

JUDGE GRAVES SAYS BYERS GIRLS MUST BE TRIED IN COUNTY

Fears Impartial Trial.

The applicants then set forth that such facts have come to their knowledge that they now fear a fair and impartial trial because the Hon. Frank D. Ramsay, presiding judge, and the two other judges of the fourteen judicial district in the state of Illinois and the inhabitants of the county in which the said case is pending are prejudiced against them.

Reasons Set Forth.

They, therefore, pray for a change of venue, because:

They are not guilty of the crime charged in the indictment.

The inhabitants of the county in which the case is pending are peevish, law-abiding citizens, more easily wrought up to avenge any crime of the nature of which the defendants are charged than are the inhabitants of many other communities in the state.

Papers Inflame Public.

The application then states that the inhabitants of the county were by charges and statements published by the newspapers and transmitted by the mail to every city, village and hamlet in the county and by means of the telephone and other means of distributing information into every home within the limits of Whiteside county, led to believe, and have formed conclusions as to the guilt of such defendants; and such publications were not refuted because of reasons of policy. They, have therefore, left in the minds of the public a firm conviction as to the guilt of the petitioners, which cannot be removed or overcome by evidence.

Newspaper Circulation.

It is further cited that there was, at the time the alleged offense was committed, and are now nine newspapers published in Whiteside county as follows:

Two dailies in Sterling.
One tri-weekly in Morrison.
One semi-weekly in Fulton.
One weekly in Rock Falls.
One weekly in Tampico.
One weekly in Prophetstown.
One weekly in Erie.
One weekly in Albany.

Publish Many Stories.

It is asserted that the two Sterling papers day after day, since the alleged crime was committed, have published column after column pointing to the guilt of the two defendants, which articles were copied and published by other papers in the county, some with and some without comment pointing to and alleging the guilt of the said defendants.

Chicago Story Sensational.

It is further stated that a great metropolitan newspaper—namely the Chicago American—published a serial story, sensational, false and in the main tending to prejudice and inflame the minds of its readers, and did so inflame and prejudice their minds as to fix the conclusion of guilt.

MESSAGE FROM VETERAN REPUBLICAN AND OLD SOLDIER

filled the ranks of the party with the best and purest patriots that ever composed a political organization. That party with the recognized power from its inception, became the sponsors of our government to maintain unimpaired the constitutional liberty that had been vouchsafed to us by the immortal fathers of the revolution.

The imperishable record of the republican party's during the great crisis of our country and its subsequent faith and pledges kept, will go down in history with unsullied honor and the most successful statesmanship in the ages.

The party has not lost any of its appreciation of the wisdom of the statesmen who laid the foundation of our government and placed it in the principles of equal rights and privileges to all mankind, and the power for their maintenance.

The labors and achievements of the party during the 44 years are written upon the congressional journals and executive judicial records, and are the proofs of wise method and of the satisfaction of the people. It is our proud boast that the civilized world accords to our nation that its advancement and progress has no equal or parallel in modern or ancient history. In view of these undisputed facts, is it not a matter that should be considered carefully and earnestly by those persons who have been republicans and have left the party for a short time, whether it is not better for them to return to the party, renew their membership and march under the old banner? Your old friends will welcome you back again and give you hearty greeting. Your interest and welfare will be better served there than in any other party. There may be some old veterans that have been led away. How can they forget the fidelity and generous devotion of our government all these years? We say: "Comrades, come back to your old home."

The democratic party is now administering our government. Their acts and legislation are on trial, we can not forecast consequences and results. The party has shown neglect

A crowd of over half a hundred voters, not counting the men who went from Dixon, filled the school house at Nelson last evening and sat patiently and attentively through a two hour program.

The occasion of the meeting was the speaking of the local Republican candidates, aided by other local men who unselfishly are devoting their aid to the campaign as well. The speaking was inspiring and forceful and the audience was enthusiastic, jolly and honestly interested in what the speakers had to say.

Precinct Committeeman, Supervisor C. C. Buckaloo from Nelson township opened the meeting and introduced Attorney Harry Warner, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee.

Chairman Warner first called upon John H. Byers, secretary to Congressman McKenzie, to tell the voters something about conditions in Washington and particularly the tariff under the Democratic administration compared to the previous Republican administrations.

Mr. Byers is one of the most entertaining political speakers the county has ever developed, and he tells his audience some facts that they cannot get around, tells them facts that the Democrats do not like, but cannot refute, tells them facts the Progressives would rather not believe but the figures are there and Mr. Byers tells all of these things in a way that cannot displease anyone, no matter how much a man might want to disagree.

The details of Mr. Byers' talk have been printed heretofore and every one in Lee county who has not already heard his message will have an opportunity to do so before the campaign closes.

In his talk in Nelson last evening he dwelt chiefly with the promises the Democrats made two years ago, their tariff and Democratic economy.

Chairman Harry Warner followed Mr. Byers and spoke a few words regarding the Senatorial situation in Illinois. He gave a list of present state officers and United States Senators, etc., all living in Chicago, and asked the return of Lawrence Y. Sherman, of Springfield, to the senate at Washington, and the defeat of the two millionaire candidates from Chicago, Sullivan and Robins. He gave for one of his reasons for asking the votes for Senator Sherman, that Sherman, a seasoned, wise and experienced statesman, who already has been in the United States senate, can do a great deal more for the state of Illinois than either of the other candidates, both of whom would be without associations or standing in the upper house of congress and would be able to accomplish nothing for a considerable time.

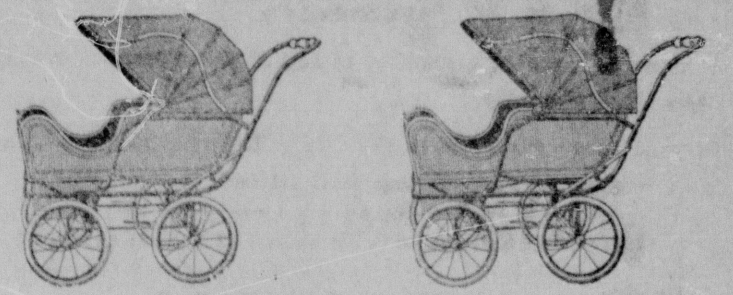

State's Attorney Harry Edwards spoke on State Politics. He told of the way the state tax rate had doubled under Governor Dunne, as compared to the administration of Governor Deneen and every other governor for many years. He told of the promise Governor Dunne had made before the late election, when he promised to give Illinois an "economical" administration. He asked the people what more they were getting in exchange for the double in the tax rate.

The county candidates: Attorney J. B. Crabtree, for county judge; Fred G. Dimick, for county clerk; Edwin S. Rosecrans for circuit clerk; R. R. Phillips, candidate for sheriff; Prof. L. W. Weaver, candidate for county superintendent of schools. The party has shown neglect and great indifference to their pledges. Their extravagance has been a serious disappointment to our people. The imposition of a war tax in time of profound peace in our own country is an extraordinary precedent. The tax may be a necessity but the acts of the party and conditions that have made the tax necessary will be a huge responsibility for the party to extricate away.

There is one feature of President Wilson's election we can not forget: return show conclusively that he owes his election not so much to democratic votes as to Theodore Roosevelt, whose political juggling will go down in history as the methods of a character that had won great distinction as a scholar and statesman, unable to stand disappointment, became a victim to his ambition and mental weakness that overwhelmed his mental strength. At one time the supposed idol of his party, through its generous support he gained all his fame. A change came over the scene because the party refused to nominate him for president, for a third term, he revolted and deserted the party, using every effort in his power to disrupt and embarrass it, at tempted to organize another party and nominated himself for its candidate. Then came his disastrous failure, which soon caused his humiliation, which became so intense that he could not endure it; for reasons that naturally make conjecture he departed from the country and sought rest and repose in the wilds and jungles of the unexplored regions of Brazil. After long absence, on his return to his home, he was again sufficiently encouraged to enter the campaign for his waning and shattered party. When asked about the State of Maine election he replied that, "Although his party had met great losses, it had defeated the republican candidates; that is all we wanted." We can only surmise that the good qualities he once possessed have been lost or swallowed up by insidious spite and revenge. His star moved on in its course down to the low range of its horizon, is already losing itself in the mists of forgetfulness, will set so far in the depths of the deep it may never rise again. Social justice, the great cry and expected vote getter, was proclaimed as the "Milk in the Cocoa-nut" of the campaign platform of the self-named Progressives, was given out that the idea was hatched out in the brain of the author of the party.

We find the greatest document on social justice ever written was the declaration of independence, all the battles of the Revolution were fought on the principles therein embodied. The spirit and letter are embodied in the constitution of the United States. The legislative enactments by Congress have been along that line, more especially so since the advent of the republican party. The immortal Lincoln was the greatest exponent of social justice and exemplified by him throughout his own life. The progressive party with its political nostrums, its falsifications and misrepresentations, should have died "a-born-in," but an organization founded upon spite and revenge can have at the best but a brief existence.

Doubtless "Teddy" is fighting his last battle.

JOHN E. MOYER FOR TREASURER.

Wherever the smiling face of happy John Moyer appears, smiles spread to the faces of his friends, for there never in all the history of Lee county was any man whom the people took to their hearts in a more welcome manner than the way in which the people have accepted John E. Moyer, the republican candidate for County Treasurer.

On November third, only a few days now, the voters will select a county treasurer. There are three candidates for the position. Do you know them all? You should. It is the duty of every voter to investigate the character and qualifications of every candidate if it is possible for him to do so, for the voters are about to hire a man to run a department of their business, the county treasurer's office, and an important department it is. Three men are applicants for the job. Which one do you think is the most capable of carrying on the business of the office? If you have investigated, you will know that John E. Moyer is the man.

Both of the other candidates were "hand-picked." They were engineered through the September primary by the bosses of their parties and affairs were manipulated in such a manner that there was no opposition. The Progressives admit that they would let nobody else run for the nomination. These two candidates are not necessarily the choice of the majority of their party members. They were thrust down the throat of their party by the party bosses without so much as "by your leave."

John E. Moyer's name, with the name of another mighty fine citizen of Lee county, a man well known politically, and against whom there is nothing, was put on the primary ticket of the republican party. The republicans of his county selected John E. Moyer. His nomination is considerably more of an honor to him and a recommendation for him because of the fact that he was opposed by such a splendid opponent in the primary. It shows what the true worth and sound value of John E. Moyer must be.

John E. Moyer is eminently fitted to perform the intricate duties required of the county treasurer. His situation is ideal for the handling of this office, as are his abilities and special proficiencies. It is to the advantage of the business of the county, the tax payers and every citizen to see that John E. Moyer is placed in the County Treasurer's office. It is up to the voters of Lee county, when they hire their county treasurer on November third, to pick out the man who deserves the office and who is in every way best fitted to fill it; John E. Moyer.

THE CRISIS DRAWS CLOSE.

In a very few days from today the campaign will close. Illinois has been and is today and will be until the end, the great battle ground of the three parties. The contest in Illinois is the opening battle of the national campaign of 1916, and with the Illinois battle won, the republicans will have half the battle of 1916 won, for the influence of victory or defeat will spread to every state in the Union.

Now is the time when every republican should work unceasingly and do everything within his power to gain votes and further the interests of the candidates on the republican ticket. A Great Principle is at stake. This election will, with your help, be the turning point in this great nation for better things, better times, and all that makes life more worth living.

Success now answers anyone who may have a doubt as to the future of the great national party to which we owe allegiance.

Success now condemns Wilson's free trade with its consequent treasury deficit and challenges the subterfuge of a war tax when our people are at peace with all the world.

Success now condemns the Dunne double rate of state taxation and flagrant abuse of the public confidence in every department of the state government.

Success now means a united party and a return to the safe, conservative business principles and practices of the Republican party.

Have you had enough of Democratic rule in both state and nation? Do you wish to see the Republican party return to power? Do you wish to see Sherman and the whole state ticket elected? Do you remember when Illinois had only one democratic congressman? Do you want to see a Republican delegation in congress from Illinois again? Do you want to see the Illinois Senate and House Republican again? Do you want to elect your county ticket?

Of course you do. You want all these things for your own good and the good of those who are close to you. Well, the question is, do you want them badly enough to go to some little trouble to get them? When it is too late, you might be sorry that you did not take more interest in your own welfare. Why not take time by the forelock and work NOW for the election of the entire Republican ticket?

NOT INDUSTRIAL GUARDIAN.

Some of the Poor

By WALT MASON

Through weary years we swatted flies, which swatted us—'twas fit for it—and now we're asked to nobly rise, like armored knights, and bat the rat. We swatted flies at your behest, or tireless sanitation crank; we drove the critters galley west, and smote them hip and thigh and flank. And ever, in our sad career, one hope was burning in our breast: "The Autumn time will soon be here," we murmured, "and we'll then have rest. Then we may lay our swatters down, we poor exhausted, fly-specked men, and idly navigate the town, and play the slot machines again." But now the Autumn time is come, the flies are mostly lying flat, by chilly evenings rendered numb—and we must start to bat the rat. It has all seasons for its own, the rodent we are asked to swat; it flourishes when blizzards moan, it is on deck when winds are hot. So we begin this endless stunt like martyrs of an elder day, the more we bat, the more we hunt, the more we'll find to slug and slay. And when we've baited till we're sore, and tears are streaming from our eyes, we'll wish we might resume once more the gentle sport of swatting flies.

VEST POCKET ESSAYS

Author of "At Good Old Siwash."
By George Fitch.

Versailles, which may or may not be enjoying extreme ill health at the present time, depending on the location of the German army, is a town of 45,000, whose principal occupation, advertisement and excuse for existing is a palace.

Before Louis XVI. built his new country home, over 200 years ago, Versailles was a Gothic wilderness, much frequented by horse thieves and peasants, both of whom had about the same standing with the king. Then the palace was built and for almost a century Versailles was the show place of Europe. It was as beautiful as Paradise and as careless as a baby, and in the end it ruined the reputation of France and put a permanent crimp in the King's business in that country.

For many years Versailles has not entertained royalty, but has specialized on tourists. This has been a much more profitable business and the city is flourishing. The palace still stands and so does the park which surrounds them. The park is the greatest landscaping job in the world. It contains a canal a mile long and 200 feet wide navigated only by turtles and gold fish, and used entirely for decoration.

It has an avenue of statuary, an artificial lake, magnificent fountains and an orange grove of 1,200 trees. It has alleys, boulevards and tunnels carved through the woods and great sixty-foot trees, which are sculptured into walls and hedges with the aid of aerial ladders. More money and care was spent bringing water to this garden than was ever blown in by the old kings in providing water for Paris and there are 98 miles of channels and aqueducts.

Versailles is the pride of all France and draws more tourists than anything in Paris. There are 89 acres of paintings in the palaces and enough cobblestone paving in the courts and adjoining streets to cripple an average of 100 tourists a day. In 1870 the Germans stayed at Versailles while bombarding Paris, but were careful not to walk on the magnificent hardwood floors with their hobnailed boots and left without damage.

No country will ever build another Versailles, because no king would be so big a fool as to do it. Most of the magnificent buildings of Europe are the result of foolish ginks, and said kings doubtless writhe in their graves to think that the common people are at last getting dividends from the palaces for which they once dug so profusely.

REPUBLICANS MEET IN LEE

States Attorney Harry Edwards and John H. Byers will be the main speakers at a republican rally which will be held this evening in Lee, Illinois. The local and legislative candidates will all be on hand and a rousing meeting is being planned by the people of Lee.

Mrs. Mary Durkes of Franklin Grove who is very ill, shows little improvement.

Miss Canterbury of Chicago is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Durkes.

John Newberry of Cleveland, O., is here on business connected with the Sandusky Cement Co.

work," tells the Illinois State Journal.

Settlement work, you know, is alleviating the woes of the down-trodden.

Chicago workmen do not enjoy being patronized in that way. The way in which they do not flock to the single-tax banner dying above the plutocratic ballot box of the Progressive candidate ought to be enough to put workmen elsewhere upon guard. It shows the industrial classes of Chicago do not reciprocate the intense personal love avowed for them by Robins.

Else why only twenty-six primary votes in the Nineteenth ward for Raymond Robins? Why only two votes for the nomination of Raymond Robins in his home precinct in the Nineteenth ward?

Is there any more reason why Raymond Robins should be the political guardian in Springfield, Rockford, Elgin, Dixon, Aurora, Peoria and other industrial centers of the state than in his home ward in Chicago?

If the workmen who know Robins best, and whom he patronizes most, do not care enough about him personally to go to the polls and cast a few votes for him in the primary, they cannot be expected to pile up any mountainous industrial vote for him in the election.

If Chicago workmen really want Robins in the United States senate as their particular personal choice they would have indicated it, to some extent at least, in the primary in his home ward. His political weakness where he is nearest and best known to the workmen of Chicago is decidedly significant.

The Broadway Comedy Four, a quartet of singers, are pleasing family patrons this week with their melody and comedy. The singing has been greatly enjoyed and the young men have won popular favor with the audiences for their good work. The Davids Duo, who manipulate Indian clubs in a dexterous manner, also do some especially good work on the slack wire. Both acts will please anyone looking for an evening of clean amusement.

Charles Ray, Gladys Brockwell and Elizabeth Barridge are in the leading roles. This is a story of the life and romance of a dance hall girl and in it we see one of the most interesting lessons ever taught on "Revenge."

The other pictures are "The Sheriff's Master," a Reliance Western comedy in which Sheriff Mackley's wife turns suffragette and what the poor man has to endure before he gets things straightened out is what makes the reel a roaring farce. The other picture is entitled "The Ingrate," a sea coast story with Winifred Greenwood in the leading role.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. Simpson is making a strenuous effort to please everyone with his programs, and he certainly has two dandy bills for tonight and tomorrow night. On tonight's program is a two reel Eclair Western drama "The Line Rider" a gripping drama of the cattle range, of elemental passions wherein lawless men pit themselves against the more decent ways and desires of cleaner people.

"Little Sister" a Rex drama, the story of strong drink being overcome by a sister's love, a very strongly acted little play.

"In and Out," a Sterling comedy, the theme being, "The reason for the high cost of living." Max Asher taking the leading role, concluding the bill with a roar of laughter.

The feature on tomorrow's program is "A shooting Match." Sterling comedy, rife with original and side-splitting fun, this two-reel comedy features the famous laugh-maker, Ford Sterling, in the leading role. "The Man in the Attic," is another one of those exciting and intensely interesting frontier dramas. "A Symphony of Souls" a beautiful Rex drama ends a most entertaining hour and a half of pictures.

had ever come to his attention. He found the area so constricted, a tortuous channel, almost corkscrew in shape and so small that only a drop or two of water could trickle through, was all that was left. At first he despaired of getting even a silken thread through the opening. Days of persistent work on his part, however, and the patient assistance on the part of the child rewarded his efforts. Dr. R. C. Brown aided in the treatment and for days special nurses remained at Grace's bedside to encourage her.

Once the thread—buttonhole twist—was anchored, a piano wire no larger than a pin head was passed down the channel with the thread, running through the eyelet as a guide.

Small steel bulbs, olive shaped and no bigger than heads of small mourning pins, were passed down the wire. These bulbs were increased in size, and at the end of two months the little girl was able for the first time in nearly two years to swallow a little milk. Then one day Grace was given some solid food and she swallowed it. The tube was removed from the child's stomach, and from that time on she grew in weight. At last bulbs the size of an olive were passed through the esophagus and the doctors pronounced it normal again.

It was the tightest stricture of the esophagus that ever came to the attention of the medical world, we believe, said Dr. Brown. "But a great deal of credit should be given to re-

INTERURBAN IN TWO COLLISIONS YESTERDAY

MOTORMAN FLEMING'S CAR SLID ON SLIPPERY RAILS IN STERLING.

Sterling, Oct. 24.—The 9 o'clock interurban had a double accident on Friday morning, striking C. S. Van De Mark's automobile between Fourth and Fifth avenues and three minutes later it collided with a milk wagon belonging to the Sterling Dairy company and driver by Albert Beers. In neither case was much damage done. The Van De Mark automobile went dead near the track and the wheels slid on the slippery rails despite Motorman Fleming's efforts to stop them. The auto was struck a glancing blow and slightly damaged. Immediately after starting the car, the milk wagon team which had been left by Driver Beers while he ran to a house to make a delivery, became frightened at an automobile trunk and backed onto the track. Again the motorman was unable to stop the car on account of slippery rails. The wagon was struck a blancing blow, and while undamaged, seven cans of buttermilk were spilled. The glass in the front end of the car was smashed.

FACTS POLITICAL, WITH INTERESTING AND CONCLUSIVE FIGURES

Since the presidential election in November, 1912, much conflicting information has been disseminated regarding the political situation in Illinois, and throughout the country. The best way to get the real truth is to study the results of the registrations, primaries and elections that have been held since that time. Cold, official figures tell the story better than words. There can be no way of going behind these figures.

Let The Official Figures Speak For Themselves---All The Way Across The Country

NEW YORK.		PENNSYLVANIA.		MAINE.		ILLINOIS.		MINNESOTA.
The reported result of the New York state primary, held Sept. 28, 1914, and a comparison with the 1912 vote of that state follows:		The official result of the 1914 primary in Pennsylvania and a comparison with the 1912 vote follows:		The official results of the Maine election, held Sept. 14 1914, and a comparison with the presidential vote of 1912 follow:		The official result of the Illinois primary, held on Sept. 9, 1914, compared with the 1912 vote in that state follows:		The official results of the 1914 Minnesota primary together with the vote of 1912 follows:

The Progressives of New York, Roosevelt's home state, had a warm contest for the gubernatorial nomination between Sulzer and Davenport and in spite of this, the total vote fell off 92 per cent, compared with their 1912 vote.		Recently the Progressive nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania withdrew in favor of the Democratic nominee.		After California, Maine was the strongest Progressive state in the country in 1912. They carried seven out of sixteen counties.		The Progressive vote in Cook County was but 7,391, less than one-twentieth of what it was in 1912. The returns show that this party has disappeared in a number of Illinois counties.		The Progressive vote was not large enough to get the ticket of that party on the official ballot for the November election.

There is but one possible conclusion: THE VOTERS ARE DETERMINED TO RETURN THE REPUBLICAN PARTY TO POWER AND BRING TO THE NATION THE PROSPERITY TO WHICH WE ARE ENTITLED.		The Progressive vote was not large enough to get the candidates of that party on the official ballot for the November election.		Recently the Cincinnati Enquirer (Democratic) said: "Perhaps the clearest indication of what may happen at the next election is given by the recent primaries at Gary and Indiana Harbor, Ind., great industrial centers. The Progressives carried both of these steel towns in 1912. By reason of the mills being forced to close down or operate only part time, thousands of men have been laid off. These cities may be taken as typical industrial centers. In the recent primary the republicans received 90 per cent of the vote of Gary, the Democrats 7 per cent, and the Progressives 3 per cent. In Indiana Harbor the Republicans received 92 per cent of the vote, the Democrats 6 per cent, and the Progressives 2 per cent."

NOTHING CAN PREVENT IT

The Citizenship of Illinois is not different from that of other States; and in November this Citizenship will speak in terms just as certain—and the Republican party will again give to Illinois the efficient, economical government which we deserve.

Illinois will again prove to the country that in time of any great national need she can be depended upon.

The Trey O' Hearts

The name was echoed from two throats as Alan swung sharply and thrust the glasses into the hands of the girl.

"Judith," he affirmed with a look of poignant solicitude. "She's roped to the back of that crazy broncho—helpless! See for yourself; one false step—suppose a stone turns beneath its hoof—she'll be killed!"

While the girl focused her glasses upon that speck that flew against the sky Alan turned to the two horses hobbled near by and seizing a saddle threw it over the back of one.

At this the other man turned to his side and dropping a detaining hand upon his arm asked:

"What are you going to do?"

Alan shook the hand off and went on with his self-appointed task.

"Go after her, Tom, of course," he replied. "What else? That animal is crazy, I tell you—"

"Even so," Tom Barcus argued, "you can't climb that hillside on horseback—and if you could, you'd be too late to catch up, much less prevent an accident—"

"I know it. But suppose it doesn't fall... You know what's beyond these hills—deserts! And the girl is helpless, I tell you, bound hand and foot. Think of her being carried that way—all day, perhaps—face up to this brutal sun! She'll go mad if something isn't done—"

"You've gone mad yourself already," Mr. Barcus contended darkly. "What's it to you if she does? Suppose you do succeed in rescuing her: what then? As soon as she gets on her pins she'll try to stick a knife into you—like as not. What's she been chasing you for, all over this land of the brave and home of the free, but to take your fool life? And now you want to sacrifice yourself to her, out of sheer, downright foolishness in the head! I suppose you'll like me to call it chivalry! I'll tell you what I call it—lunacy!"

"Don't be an ass!" Alan responded temperately, gathering the reins together and instinctively lifting a foot to the stirrup. "Who warned us yesterday in time to prevent our being crushed by that rock? Judith! Why was she separated from Marrophat and the others—alone up there when that beast sneaked up behind her—O, I saw him—I saw it all—and grabbed her and roped her to that broncho—"

"It wasn't because she had broken with them for good and all and started to fight on our side?"

"You're raving," Barcus said in a hopeless tone. He

PETROGRAD REPORTS

FOE'S LOSS 200,000

Czar's Capital Tells of Sweeping Victory of Big Army.

Petrograd, Oct. 24.—The reports reaching military headquarters from the front say that the total losses of the Germans—killed, wounded and prisoners—in their operations in Poland to date number 200,000. Fighting is still in progress along the line of the Vistula and is constantly increasing in magnitude.

The ten days' battle, in which, for the first time, the combined Austrian and German armies have met the Russians has resulted in a considerable advance for the czar's army. In a battle of the first importance, involving 5,000,000 men, Russia has won.

Grand Duke Nicholas explains that the victory was due not only to natural causes—the continuous rains rendering the ground swampy and making the rivers overflow—but to the fact that the enemy was outnumbered and outfought by the Russians. The Siberian troops, among whom the Ural Cossacks are appearing for the first time as important war factors, outfought the enemy's left near Novo Georgievsk, while the Caucasian Terek Cossacks outfought the German right in the vicinity of Ivanogorod. The Russian dash, which brought substantial success, also caused great losses.

OUR BOYS and GIRLS

A LITTLE KNIGHT.

Not to look at. No. He looked rather funny as he laboriously climbed the tramcar steps; for his legs were very short and he could get no help from his hands, for one carried his school-books and the other held something squeezed up tight.

But the conductor knew him well and helped him up; and he appeared in the doorway smiling broadly at the passengers, who all smiled back into the round, freckled face with such a mere button of a nose that it looked as if it had been pounded in.

A little friend of his, who had evidently been crying, was sitting in the other end of the car, and the little knight made his way up to where she was sitting.

"Hullo, Jenny!" he said, in his cheerful voice.

"O John," said Jenny, with a little catch in her voice. "I've lost my money, I think, down here on the floor! And now I can't go to the show. I've looked and looked for it."

"Can't you get another?" asked John anxiously, looking sharply at the floor.

"No. We are such a big family, you see, and I am in the middle of it. And people in the middle of families, I don't think, ever get extras. They always take what's left."

"Yes, I've noticed that," said John. "I'm in the middle too, and things are always too big or too little for me. I got sixpence running on an errand for grandma," he added, opening up his squeezed-up hand and showing the moist bit of silver which meant so much to him. "I say, Jenny," he added heroically, "you take mine. Girls care more about things than—boys."

But Jenny was proof against this temptation. She shut her eyes and shook her head hard. "No, indeed, I won't take yours," she said firmly. "I guess I know about boys and shows. I've saved this money for the longest time, and I was so glad when the man said the school-children could come for sixpence. But now—"

The tears were coming again, and John dropped down to look for the coin.

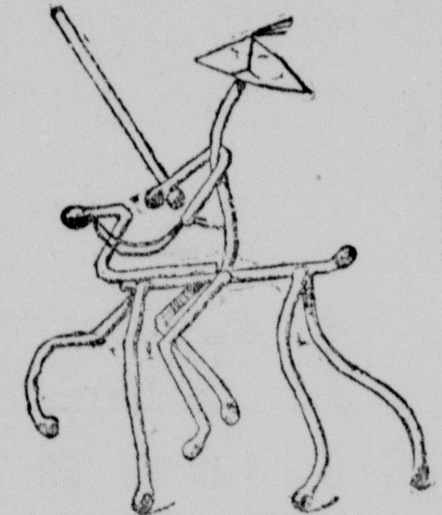

He hunted for some minutes; and a sharp-eyed woman saw him drop his coin down in the straw, then pick it up. Then he rose up.

"Here you are, Jenny!" he said. "O John, thank you!" cried Jenny beaming. "I never can find things."

When they got off at the school-house, the sharp-eyed woman got off, too.

And that may have explained the fact that John's teacher at recess handed him a square envelope. It was a ticket to the show, a bright silver sixpence, and a tiny slip of paper on which was written, "For the good knight, John." John did not understand that very well; the only knight he knew much about was a disagreeable time of day connected with bedtime. But he understood the money and ticket very well; and he beamed like a small, freckled sun, as you do when you are young and in the middle of a family and delightful things happen.—Youth's Companion.

The General of the Light Brigade.

By slightly warming wax matches all sorts of comical figures can be made. This dignified general on his high stepping charges is one, and your ingenuity can easily form other models.—New York Tribune.

Children's Savings.

The little savings bank into which a small hand slips a penny at a time, and which precedes the opening of an account for the child in the bank of deposit where interest is paid accruing to the child's account, should not be overlooked by the thoughtful parent. The temptation to spend every penny received assails our little ones as in very truth it confronts older people. The windows of the confectioners' shops are filled with candy and sweets and many a penny is dropped in the drawer of the merchant when it should instead be put by for future use. To utterly condemn children for spending money is unwise, but if a little girl or boy has, to begin with, an allowance of a penny a day, a certain amount should be set aside for some purpose that will bring results. We must not teach the children to hoard their little fund, but we ought to teach them to invest it judiciously.—The Christian Herald.

WINTER WHEAT YIELDING 45 BUSHELS PER ACRE. Preceding Spring Crop dressed with 500 pounds of fertilizer per acre. Winter wheat fertilized with 300 pounds per acre—Mt. Gilead, O.

WISE WHEAT GROWERS SPITE WEATHER

How 39 Farmers Proved That Plantfood Pays Under Most Unfavorable Conditions.

"There is naught which earth displays with intent to deceive. In clear and simple language stamped with the seal of truth she informs us what she can and cannot do. Thus it has ever seemed to me that earth is the best discoverer of true honesty, in that she offers all her stores of knowledge in a shape accessible to the learner, so that he who runs may read."—Xenophon, the Economist, 434-355 B. C.

Whether or not the 39 Illinois farmers who last year tested for themselves the value of applying available plantfood to their winter wheat had ever heard of Xenophon and his philosophy, pertaining to the value of field tests, it is certain that they proved their beliefs in the same methods of settling troublesome questions as were advised by the Greek philosopher 24 centuries ago. Men may argue and theorize to the end of time, but until they get down to actual testing of intensive methods, under the most favorable conditions, they are not prepared to render a final decision.

Believing this, 39 farmers last year undertook to grow two acres each of test plots of winter wheat. To one acre they applied about two hundred and fifty pounds of suitable fertilizers at the time the wheat was sown. Twenty-five of these men applied the fertilizer through the dropping attachment of the seed drill. Fourteen of the experimenters who did not have fertilizer drills, applied the same weight of fertilizer broadcast and then harrowed it into the soil just before the seeding of the wheat. At harvest time, each farmer carefully weighed or measured the product of each acre test and made comments upon the quality of the product harvested, as well as upon the growing conditions. The reports follow:

Proper fertilizer distribution pays. When fertilizer was applied through the fertilizer attachment of the grain drill an average yield of approximately 20½ bushels per acre was obtained against 13½ bushels when no fertilizer was applied. The Illinois farmers reporting above, have found that the application of available plantfood at the time of seeding and with the proper facilities, resulted in a gain of 7 bushels of wheat per acre in a year when the average wheat yields of the state were exceptionally low. With wheat selling at even 75 cents per bushel this means that an expenditure of about $2.50 per acre resulted in an increased return of $5.25 per acre, or a net gain of $2.75 per acre from the use of available plantfood, on the wheat crop alone, not counting the residual effect of the application on the crops following.

The fertilizer increased yields even when not properly applied for the 14 Illinois men who did not have fertilizer drills obtained about 16 bushels per acre when fertilizer was applied against 13 bushels where no plantfood was applied. At 75 cents per bushel, however, this increased return of three bushels per acre or of $2.25 almost paid for the application not counting the after effects on the crops following, for the wheat did not use up all the plantfood applied. Thus, the use of the plantfood paid even in this particular instance though it does show the great value of having machinery which will put the plantfood on the soil in such a manner as to be of greatest service to the growing plants.

The reason for the greater efficiency of available plantfood when properly applied lies in the fact that the drill deposits the fertilizer down in the areas of soil where the plant roots feed. When drilled, plantfood is available to the young plant during the cold weather of early spring. This supply of food at this critical time gives it a start sufficient to enable it to press on to maturity before drought cuts the growing season short.

The exact figures show that under most unfavorable conditions, the farmer experimenters obtained an average yield of 18.9 bushels per acre where they used fertilizer, against a yield of 12.6 bushels per acre where no fertilizers were applied and that even in the 1913 season an average gain of 6.3 bushels per acre was obtained by supplying these Illinois fields with available plantfood. Taking an average and even counting those fields on which the plantfood was applied at a great disadvantage (broadcast), the expenditure of $2.50 per acre returned approximately $4.70 per acre, or a net gain of $2.20 per acre, by the use of available plantfood. This is a return of 88 per cent on the money invested with the money back in one's pocket in less than a year, and returns coming in for two or three more years, for succeeding crops are bound to show better yields as a result of applications. This is the best kind of an investment.

COMB SAGE TEA IN PAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma kept her locks dark glossy, thick with a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandma's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

A. D. 1914, or as soon thereafter as the business of the court will permit.

Said hearing will be held in the County Court Room in the Court House in the City of Dixon, County of Lee and State of Illinois.

Any person interested may file objections before the time set for hearing and appear and show cause why said petition shall not be taken as true.

Dated this 20th day of October, A. D. 1914.

The Wants have helped many.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING.

DIXON PEOPLE SHOULD NOT NEGLECT THEIR KIDNEYS.

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To relieve the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 30 years. Here is convincing proof of merit. It comes from this locality. Mrs. J. H. Boehm, 906 Fourth Ave., Sterling, Ill., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years, and think they are the best kidney remedy to be had. Although I never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills myself, I can confirm the public statement I gave some years ago in their favor. One of the family had trouble from his back and kidneys. The kidney action was irregular and his back hurt him. Finally, he used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Perry's Drug Store, and they gave him relief."

The above is not an isolated case. Mrs. Boehm is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Boehm recommends. 50c all stores. EFFORTS FAIL TO STOP CONGRESS

Senate and House Adjourn Until To-day.

HINT THAT WILSON MAY ACT

President's Right to Exercise Constitutional Power to End Session Is Cited—President Pro Tem Clarke Says It Is Time to Quit and Goes Home.

Washington, Oct. 24.—All efforts to adjourn congress sine die have failed again and the senate, by adjourning over to noon today, postponed the end of the session at least another day.

Talk of President Wilson exercising his constitutional privileges and adjourning congress was general in official circles, but nothing materialized. Senate leaders hoped some arrangement could be made to pass the bank law amendments and the cotton ware house bill for which cotton state members were filibustering, without the necessary quorum today.

House Quorum Is Lacking.
In the house the filibuster continued before a quorumless body until 1:45 o'clock, when adjournment was taken to noon today.

Senator Shimmers told his colleagues he has information that disputed points in the bank amendments and the cotton ware house bill would be so composed as to assure their passage by unanimous consent in both houses today.

There was talk of a resolution for final adjournment at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Cites Folly of Cotton Filibuster.
When Majority Leader Kern brought up a resolution for the senate to adjourn until today Senator Clarke left his place as president pro tempore, yielded the gavel to Senator John Sharp Williams and began a long speech on "the state of the union." He told southern senators it was folly for them to insist on their cotton legislation.

Senator Clarke declared congress, under the constitution, could adjourn from day to day without a quorum.

Time for Vaudeville to Stop.
"Such action might result in a loss of mileage," he continued, "but, for my part, I propose to adjourn this evening and go home. I think that the vaudeville in this situation ought to stop."

Meanwhile, in the house, roll call followed roll call without disclosing a quorum, and Mr. Underwood said none could be secured until after elections.

An effort to adjourn the house failed, 92 to 58, with sixty-three members lacking to make up a sufficient number to do business.

Cite Power of President.
The president's power to adjourn congress himself is found in section 3 of article 2 of the constitution, which provides that "in case of disagreement between them (both houses of congress) with respect to the time of adjournment he (the president) may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper."

France Loses Aviator.
Paris, Oct. 23.—France has lost on the battlefield one of her best known amateur aviators—Dr. Emile Rey-mond, president of the national aviation commission and a member of the French senate.

ALLIES GAIN AT ARMENTIERES

Official French and German Communications Tell of Results of Fighting Both Claim Important Successes—Battle Raging in Air and Sea and Land Off Coast.

Paris, Oct. 24.—The allies were victorious in a battle of great violence near Arras, where the Germans attempted to isolate a large French detachment from the main army. The latter's cavalry made a swift raid to seize an important railroad line which movement was followed by an infantry charge. French artillery opened a withering fire and compelled the Germans to fall back to their original positions.

Vessels from the French navy, which have crept around the coast, were standing by the British monitors, which are hurling shells landward between Ostend and Newport on the Belgian coast, in continuation of the fierce battle between Germany and the allies for the possession of the North sea and channel ports.

For the first time since the war began air craft and warships are aiding simultaneously in the movements of land forces; thus the struggle is being waged in the air, on the sea and on the land at the same time.

Paris Gives Statement.

Paris, Oct. 24.—The official communication issued at 11 o'clock at night said:

"On our left wing the action has continued with great violence, especially around Arras, La Bassee and Armentieres. The allied forces have lost some ground at certain points around La Bassee and have gained ground east of Armentieres.

"Generally, on this part of the front, the situation has not been changed.

"North of the Aisne our artillery has destroyed three German batteries."

The official announcement given out at the war office in Paris in the afternoon says:

"On our left wing the very considerable German forces, whose presence was reported yesterday have continued violent attacks in the entire region between the sea and the canal of La Bassee.

"Generally speaking the situation of the allied forces has been maintained. If the allies have had to yield at certain points, they have advanced at others.

"The enemy also has evidenced very great activity in the region of Arras and on the River Somme. To the north and to the south of this stream we have progressed, particularly in the region of Rosieres.

"In Santerre, in the region of Verdun, and in the region of Pont-a-Mousson we have had some partial successes. On the rest of the front there is nothing to report.

Germans Renew Fight.

"To sum up: The enemy appears to be undertaking, along the major part of the front, and particularly between the North sea and the Oise, a new effort, making use of corps made up of new organizations. These are composed of men recently drilled, some of them very young and others of middle age, and have staffs drawn from various parts of the army."

Victory at All Points, Says Berlin. Berlin, Oct. 24.—An official announcement issued at the German army headquarters, in Berlin, says:

"On the Yser canal yesterday we gained successes.

"To the south of Dixmude our troops advanced.

"To the west of Lille our attacks were successful; we took possession of several villages.

"On the rest of the western front it is generally quiet.

"In the eastern theater of the war the Russian attacks near Augustow have been repulsed. We captured several machine guns.

"There is no definite news from the southeastern field of war."

Germans Quit in Food Shortage.

London, Oct. 24.—In a dispatch from Warsaw the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company says the German retreat from Warsaw was so precipitate that the soldiers had to abandon their food supplies. Many of the prisoners taken are exhausted from hunger. One complete unit of 800 men has been captured by the Russians.

MELON SLAYER SENTENCED

Man Who Shot Boy Given Two to Fourteen Years.

Albion, Ind., Oct. 24.—Charles L. Cushing of Kendallville was sentenced by Judge L. M. Wrigley to serve from two to fourteen years in the state prison for killing Howard McLaughlin of Lansing, Mich., during a raid on Cushing's melon patch.

The jury returned a verdict early in the day, finding Cushing guilty of voluntary manslaughter.
